

Almond orchards in California's Central Valley occupy an area the size of Delaware and produce 80% of the world's almonds.

90% of US honeybees are required to pollinate these almond orchards.

If we want almonds, we have to protect bees.

learn how you can help
www.pollinatorstewardship.org